Melanoma and Skin Cancer Trials Limited

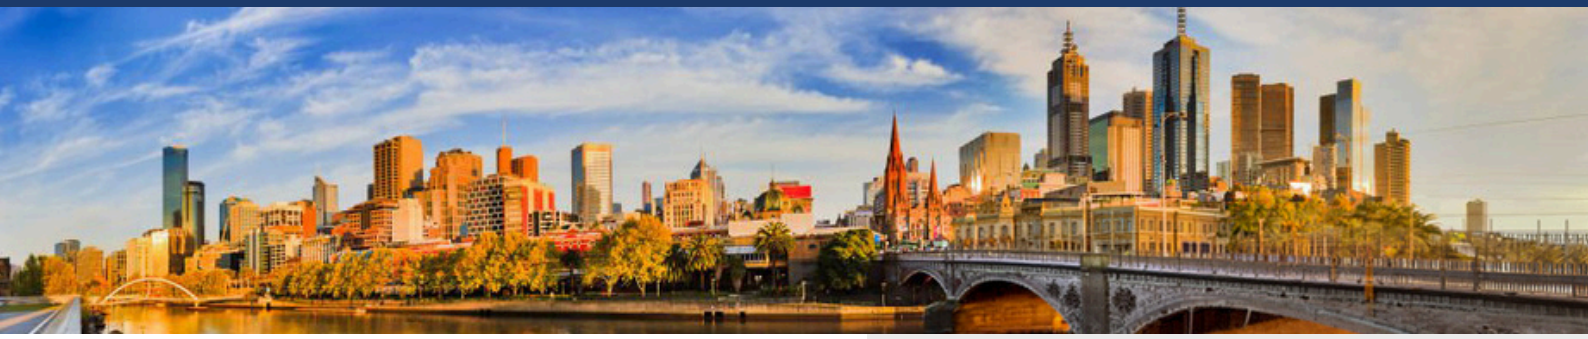

AMC 2026 Australasian Melanoma Conference

SCIENTIFIC MEETING 2026

Collaborating to eliminate melanoma and skin cancer

19 November
Melbourne, Australia

Register now

Event Details

MASC Trials Scientific Meeting: 8:30am - 4.30pm

AMC Networking event: 5:00pm-6.30pm

Venue: The Sofitel On Collins

The full-day program will feature presentations on Melanoma and Skin Cancer Trials clinical research, consumer sessions, and other relevant talks.

Connect with renowned leaders in melanoma and skin cancer clinical trials to learn about emerging discoveries and foster collaboration in cutting-edge research.

Who should attend?
The many disciplines critical to our work including: oncologists, surgeons, radiation specialists, dermatologists, nurses, allied health professionals, pathologists, health economists, statisticians, research scientists, clinical trial coordinators, data managers, consumers and their families.

Platinum Sponsor

MEDISON

Gold Sponsor

SERVIER

Silver Sponsors

aura

MERCK

MSD

Featured Speakers

Dr Miles Andrews, Bayside Health - Alfred, Monash University

Talk: Advancing the evidence base of immunotherapy related toxicity management

Prof Juan Su, Xiangya Hospital (Central South University) China

Talk: The role of targeting lipid metabolism in the treatment of melanoma

Prof Johannes S Kern, Monash University, Bayside Health - Alfred

Talk: SiroSkin Trial: Next Steps Toward Reducing Skin Cancer Burden

Prof Michael Henderson, Peter MacCallum Cancer Centre, University of Melbourne

Talk: Melanoma Margins (MelMarT-II) – Trial Update: Progress, Insights, and Next Steps

> "It was wonderful to see the integration of the consumer voice into each session highlighting the real-world relevance that clinical trials and research has on improving outcomes for cancer patients.
>
> -Dr Jia (Jenny) Liu, The Kinghorn Cancer Centre, NSW